Memories of "Dartmouth Hurricane" Revived by Its 25th Anniversary

"If there was one dominant emotion among Princetonians as Saturday's incredible storm howled about their ears, it was that rare sense that they were watching history made before their eyes. It took but a moment's thought, apart from the impact of tumbling trees, power failures and heavy damage to property, to realize that nothing like it had happened before, that the conditons would never be duplicated in the average life-time."

-Town Topics, Nov. 30, 1950

In the intervening quarter-century since November 25, 1950, nothing like the storm (know ever since to football fans as "the Dartmouth hurricane") has been visited again upon Princeton and much of the United States east of the Mississippi. In 22 states, 278 people (three of them in a fatal crash on Alexander Street) lost their lives, and property damage was estimated at close to half a billion dollars.

In the brief time-span of a few hours (from shortly before noon until around 7 p.m.), 2.31 inches of rain (nearly the normal amount for the entire month of November) inundated the area. When the temperature dropped 30 degrees during that period, the rain changed to sleet and snow, and all forms of precipitation were driven by the banshee which maintained an average pace of 80 miles an hour, with gusts clocked at 108.

In such conditions, Princeton and Dartmouth played a football game in Palmer Stadium, a contest that will forever stand out in the memories of the 5,000 fans -- out of more than 31,000 who had purchased tickets to see if the Tigers could tinish 9 and 0 tor their first undefeated season since 1935. At the kickoff, an inch of water covered the field from one 20-yard line to the other, the portions nearer the end zones unaccountably absorbing at least the surplus on the surface.

The wind, roaring in directly from the open end of the Stadium, blew so hard that when play began, referee Albie Booth of Yale held the ball in place until the center emerged from the huddle. Punts launched with the wind sailed far over the end zone -- the longest measured 66 yards but could quite conceivably have covered 100 had it been kicked from the other goal-line -and those attempted into the gale sometimes actually lost yardage when blown backwards. Throughout the game, the team with the hurricane at its back often kicked on first down to avoid fumbling and the team playing into the blast ran on fourth down to avoid having to punt.

Hollie Donan, the 6-5, 230-lb. All-American tackle who contributed much to the Tigers' championship season, recalls the wind rather than the downpour and the casual water on the field as the dominating factor. Inability to pass (eight were thrown all day, three completed) kept the clock running steadily, and mercifully shortened the contest. In all, there were but 102 plays -- in contrast to a norm somewhere between 160 and 180.

"Trying to run on ground that wet required far more energy than usual," Donan recalls. "At the end of the game, I was absolutely exhausted." Severely shaken up on one occasion, he was held out "for observation" during one play, thus breaking a record of never having missed a minute of action during his three-year career because of injury. Fourteen players, eight on offense and slx on defense, were used by Charlie Caldwell throught the entire game.

Above the noise of the wind, inhabitants of the public address, radio and television booths atop the press box heard occasional high-pitched sounds akin to shrieks: it was the noise generated by tar paper being ripped off the roof in sheets and whirled off into the raging storm. Amazingly, power was never lost, the game was recorded in its entirety on the public address system for those on the scene, and for thousands of others in front of radio or TV sets. A nearcasualty was an NBC TV technician, who came close to being blown off the roof when he left his booth to secure some wildly flapping wires.

As the records show, Princeton won, 13-7. Each team scored when it had the

An Historic Step: Merged Health Services; Consolidation of Two Boards Set to Follow

Actual consolidation of Borough and Township into a single Princeton may not be immediate, but merged health services probably will start

In what Township Mayor Jay Bleiman characterized as "an historic step," Township Committee Monday night unanimously agreed to join with the Borough in a Princeton Regional Health ceton Regional Health Commission. The Township Board of Health voted 5-2 on November 6 to authorize such a Commission.

In the Borough, the Board of Health was scheduled to take similar action Tuesday night. Informally, the Borough board has already unanimously approved the Commission.

Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley said Tuesday that Council might pass the required resolution at a special public meeting next Monday. If not then, he said, the action will be taken at Council's regular December meeting

Action by the four bodies the two boards of health and the two governing bodies – is required under state law before the Commission can be

Autonomy Retained. Under the new set-up, the two boards of health remain, their members still appointed by the governing bodies. Each board will choose two of its members to serve on the Commission for one year. Two alternates will also be chosen. It is expected that the Borough

Board of Health will select its representatives Tuesday. Chairmen of the boards are automatically selected,

Louise Bessire, for the Borough; Margaret Sprout,
for the Township.

said this week. "It will only

On the day-to-day side, the new arrangement means that David Blake, Borough health officer, will become health officer for the entire com-munity. The Township's health officer, Herman Lavan, will retire December 31.

The two inspectors, Borough and Township, will remain and so will the two secretaries. Mr. Lavan had been working three-fifths time for the Township at $12,500 a year. In June, however, a change in the pension laws required the Township to hire

for running the department. We are working on devices to evaluate departmental efficiency.

The Commission has a twoyear life, to start. At the end of that time, the two boards of health can vote to wipe out the Commission and cancel the whole plan. The boards themselves will far from figure heads. In addition to appointing Commissioners, they will be available to offer advice to the Commission on the budget and on any other matters. And they do have the life-or-death power over the new arrangement.

The Commission will be financed on the standard rateables basis, with the Borough paying one-third of the cost and the Township twothirds, based on equalized assessed valuation in the two communities.

So far, nobody has decided where the health office will be, or which municipality will be the financial administrator.

Merger in this fashion means that the Township now qualifies for as much -- or possibly more -- state aid as the Borough. At the moment, however, any state aid is a moot question, because all such aid is in limbo.

Joining the two health boards has been a project Benefits Cited. "We hope for under detailed scrutiny for the past three years. However, Mrs. Sprout recalls a survey of local health services including a study of possible consolidation of the two boards -- in which she participated in 1947 and 1948

The road from Borough Hall to Trenton may not be a smooth one for Borough Council member Barbara it, either. So next Tuesday's meeting is sure to be lively and full of smoke, if not fire.

Borough Council, and high scorer on the Borough fellow Council member Democratic ticket, wants to be appointed to the slot on the Mercer County Board of Freeholders left vacant by the election of Freeholder Arthur Princeton, and Frederick Sypek to the new post of County Executive.

Three Borough Democrats announced this week the for-mation of "an ad hoc com-mittee" to work for Mrs. Sigmund's appointment. A special endorsement meeting of the Princeton Community Democratic Organization has been set for next Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in Borough Hall.

LOVE THAT MOUSE...

You know, running a busy little shop like your local Country Mouse isn't easy. Some time we're scampering around here till the wee hours of the morning, and then up again early so we can be all ready to open by 9:30 the next day.

Now that Christmas is only 4 weeks away. everyone is beginning to get nervous... not so here at the Country Mouse... this year Mrs. Mouse went with me to the city and helped me pick lots of nice cards, gift wrap, advent caldendars and many charming stocking stuffers. Now we can just spend our time unpacking the new things as they arrive and trying to get everything just right for a happy holiday season.

It's nice being the big cheese here at the store, but I love it when Mrs. Mouse squeaks up.

wind at its back during the first half, the visitors taking a 7-0 lead just before the first quarter ended and Princeton retaliating with touchdowns by All-American Dick Kazmaier and fullback Jack Davison.

Dartmouth's placement for the extra point was good, but only because it was deflected upward off the hands of an onrushing Princeton lineman and barely fell over the bar. The Tigers could not set the ball upright for a kick after their first TD and trailed, 7-6.

Kazmaier got them the final point when he ran the conversion across from seven yards away after an offside penalty. Under 1950 rules, the p.a.t. hegan from the two-yard line and was worth a single point, whether kicked, run or passed for successfully.

By the time the teams returned for the second half, conditions had become so much of a quagmire that further scoring proved impossible. The Tigers did penetrate to the losers' five in the third period before being set back for clipping and then losing possession.

Dartmouth had the wind in the final period, but had lost football, repeatedly came to the Tigers' aid in running out

At one point, a major gamble paid off when Kazmaier went into punt formation near midfield on a fourth-and-four situation. The snap, however, went to Davison and when the chain gang had splashed almost the width of the field, the Tigers had kept possession by inches.

Postponement Considered. The game was played under such conditions because Dartmouth, with a 4-4 record, viewed them as an equalizer, and said that a return trip to Princeton for a postponement the following Saturday was not feasible. Princeton, wishing to have an opportunity to win every game on its schedule, then preferred to play rather than to cancel.

The smoke was caused by large amounts of leaves and debris being burned in the furnace. There was no fire, police said. Firemen used fans to help clear the smoke away.

In a copyrighted story in Wednesday's issue, the Daily Princetonian said that for the past ten years, the associate general manager for facilities, Thomas P. Root, in charge of food services, has "repeatedly taken food, furniture and appliances belonging to the University." The paper quotes the accusations of unnamed employees past and present and ployees, past and present, and says that all of them have the rank of "manager" or above.

Mr. Root is alleged to have taken a pool table, a color TV, a refrigerator and a rug, and is said to have used trading stamps from University purchases to acquire a canoe, an electric typewriter and a chain saw.

In the story about Mr. Root, the Daily Princetonian says he "admitted that most of the items he is accused by employees of stealing are in his University-owned home.

Friends, Clergy Rally to Root's Support

After learning about the charges against Thomas Root described in The Daily Princetonian, friends of Mr. Root, including members of the pastoral staff at St. Paul's Church and St. Joseph's College in Kingston, joined in a statement of support. It appears on page 12 of this issue.

Mr. Root's friends refer to him as "a fellow human being possessing professional, moral and personal qualities of the highest degree." Expressing the hope that they can "document his personal honesty and integrity" over the 16 years he has lived in the community, the group describes his work in St. Paul's, at the Medical Center of Princeton, in the Kingston Fire Department and various little league and high school student groups.

They point out the training program in food services he established at the Johnston Training Center and the Bordentown Reformatory, and his work in preparing mentally retarded young people for jobs. At the request of local officials, his friends continue, Mr. Root has served as a probation officer.

The Root home, the ad says, is in constant use by Princeton University students awaiting job placement or further graduate courses, and Mr. Root himself is "constantly sought" as a character reference.

Among the signatures on the testimonial are those of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Endebrock, pastor of St. Paul's; the Rev. Eugene Ericson, associate pastor of St. Paul's; the Rev. Michael Kennedy, president of St. Joseph's College in Kingston; the Rev. William Sweeney, C.M., treasurer of the College and the Rev. Charles McNamara, C.M. principal of the St. Joseph's College high school.

Princetonian stories, Mr. Root declined. It is understood that he has retained a lawyer.

President William G. Bowen has asked the University's Financial Vice-President, Paul B. Firstenberg, to conduct an investigation. Mr. Firstenberg has told President Bowen that he porposes to employ in-dependent, outside con-sultants to review "the overall efficiency of the food service organization, the quality of its management and its internal control procedures.

Mr. Firstenberg said he will also ask William Reed, who is in charge of personnel at the Services, with people taking they didn't want to pay to University, and Lenise Smith,

Skate Board Riders in Your Family? Police Have Some Safety Suggestions

In case you haven't noticed, skate boards are back and while kids are happy, the police aren't.

"The alarming number of skate boards being used by youngsters in traffic is of utmost concern to this department," Township Chief Frederick Porter read this week from a prepared statement. "Our concern should also be the concern of parents."

All parents, Chief Porter continued, who purchase skate boards for their children should have an understanding with them that they are not to be used on the travel portions of the highway or during darkness. Chief Porter said during that while there have been no skate board accidents reported yet in the Township, it was only a matter of time.

"It's getting out of line. The kids shoot out in front of cars and they have no respect for these big metal monsters. They act as if all cars had rubber bumpers."

He urged that skate hoard safety be equally regarded as hicycle safety practices.

He was echoed by Borough Chief Michael Carnevale, who reported a "marked increase" in the number of skate board participants in public streets. Recently, he said, an adult skate board rider fell and broke his ankle on Madison Street.

Chief Carnevale warned that skate boards are prohibited in streets. Those who use them there are in violation of the motor vehicle statutes, a violation applies to both juveniles and adults. Violators are subject to a Skate boards are permissible on sidewalks, he said, as long as the rider does not interfere with or obstruct walkers.

Committee In Support of Root

P. O. Box 2

A Committee has been formed to present Tom Root to Princeton University and the larger Community as a fellow human being possessing professional, moral and personal qualities of the highest degree. We hope to document his personal honesty and integrity as seen by his activities in conducting his business and community affairs over the past 16 years in Princeton.

Most of the members of this Committee have been associated with Tom Root for a good many years. To list all of his management or professional achievements while at the University would require more space than is available.

Tom Root has established at Princeton University a unique training program that has been instrumental in the instruction and general development of management as well as operational personnel. His recognition of training needs and career development and his appointment of a Director of Training clearly demonstrate his concern for his fellow employees.

In terms of labor management, professional job efficiency has at least doubled over the past few years. The number of student employees (on student aid) has increased dramatically over that same period of time.

Tom Root is a tough, fair administrator who has a high standard which challenges the capabilities of those under his employ. He is an organizer and a doer. He meets situations as they arise and has faced a variety of problems in a forthright manner. Tom Root's management style can best be summed up as the "team approach." He always addresses himself to his staff and insists on a consensus prior to policy formulation. He requires input from his staff and gives them the type of leadership without prejudice that clearly demonstrates those qualities which exemplify a responsive and enlightened manager. No other University official comes to mind as much as Tom Root as one who opens his home and its environs to other employees as well as students.

In support of his personal integrity, we wish to refer to his service to:

I. St. Paul's Church

II. Voluntary Organizations

III. Living example to individual people in need.

Tom is a religious and devout person who is active at St. Paul's Church. He commands the respect of the clergy and his fellow parishioners who are proud to have him as a member. He was individually responsible for initiating the Church picnic in June 1975 which was attended by well over 1,000 people. He was interested in getting the Community together solely for the purpose of getting to know one another better. Without his expertise and enthusiasm there is no doubt that this picnic and numerous other functions would not have materialized. He acts in an advisory capacity for other community functions. He is on the Board at St. Joseph's Seminary and serves as advisor on matters involving building and ground main-

Tom Root's service to voluntary organizations includes Princeton Hospital, the Kingston Fire Department and as a host to countless little league and high school student groups. He provided the expertise for the Princeton Hospital Hospitality Shop. As regards the Kingston Fire Department, he arranged for the University to provide the tent to store fire equipment during a building expansion program in the early 1970's. He was helpful in advising members of the Company in earning funds through catering. These funds help sustain this voluntary organization. He has arranged for and personally delivered coffee service at serious fires which have occurred in the Princeton area. His concern for a safe haven for students after high school proms has led him to host many breakfast parties.

His service to individuals in need includes establishing a training program in food service at the Johnston Training Center and Bordentown Reformatory. He advises and prepares mentally retarded children for various jobs which will hopefully sustain them after release from the Reformatory. Likewise, he trains inmates at the Yardville Correction Center to qualify for jobs in food service after they are released. He has served as a probation officer for youngsters at the request of local officials. He was instrumental in appealing to the student body of Princeton University to donate clothes for the needy which were dispersed to numerous charitable organizations. His house is in constant use by University students awaiting job placement or further graduate courses in the area. He is constantly sought as character reference by students applying for jobs or professional schools.

Tom Root has contributed of himself in countless other ways over the years. For those readers of this statement who share our opinion, we would ask that you join us in supporting this outstanding citizen. If you wish to join our Committee or express your feelings about Tom Root, write:

State Voters Prefer "Independent" Label To Aligning Themselves with Either Party

As a result of declining confidence in both major parties, there are now as many independents in New Jersey as there are Democrats and Republicans combined.

According to the latest New Jersey Poll, conducted by the Eagleton Institute of Rutgers University. 49 percent of those questioned before this month's elections considered themselves to be Independents. Democrats numbered 35 percent and only 14 percent declared themselves to be Republicans

The Poll reveals that the number of independents in the state has risen steadily during the last two years. In a survey taken in January, 1973 --- after Richard Nixon's landslide victory but before the Watergate affair became a major political Issue -- 38 percent of New Jerseyans seid they were independents. At that time, 34 percent said they were Democrats and 23 percent were Republicans Since then, the proportion of independents has steadily increased

	Democret	independent	Hebupiicen	Don't Know
Jan. 1973	34%	38%	23%	5%
Oct. 1973	33%	41%	20%	6%
Oct. 1974	35%	45%	15%	5%
Oct. 1975	35%	49%	14%	2%

The latest New Jersey Poll shows that public confidence in both parties has declined since 1973. When asked this October how much confidence they have in each of the two major parties in New Jersey, 29 percent said they had "not very much confidence" in the Democrats and an even larger 38 percent had "not very much conlidence" in the Republicans In March, 1973, again before Watergate, 23 percent expressed a lack of confidence in the Democrats and 27 percent in the Republicans.

This erasion of public confidence in the two parties, Pall officials noted, has hurt the Republicans more than the Democrats. Since January 1973, the percent of Republicans has declined while the percent of Democrats has remained the same. The net result of this shift is that in New Jersey, Democrats now out number Republicans by a 5 to 2 margin as compared to only 3 to 2 in 1973

Even though independents do not consider themselves to be either Republicans or Democrats, many do say they "lean" more toward one party or the other. Of the 49 percent of independents in the most recent poll, 25 percent said liney "lean" toward the Democrats and 12 percent "lean" toward the Republicans, while the remaining 12 percent still express no preference

Poll officials said that the trend toward more independents is likely to continue. They base this on the fact that among those under thirty. 63 percent are independents as compared to only 38 percent among the over lifty group

Princeton Township country estate delightful setting - 11/2 story Baughan $260,000 Colonial - with 10 acres will sell six corner acres $100,000

A magnificent historical house in Lawrence Township (1700 orig.), 2 plus acres. The main section was divided into 2 apartments in the 50's and the 2nd floor is rented with a 60 day notice clause. The first floor and the stone wing need decorating and some renovating but a buyer could live in the apartment while the work was being done. One could postpone work on the wing and return the main section to single family or live in one apartment and rent the other. The owners are extremely anxious to sell and will consider all offers.

ALL NEW HENDERSON LISTINGS...

MAGNIFICENT!

We searched Webster's and Roget's and couldn't come up with a better word: Magnificent! That's it! MAGNIFICENT! Sums up everything about our newest listing.

It is a Georgian colonial with huge white columns created seventy-five years ago entirely out of stone. It has a spectacular three-story high foyer and reception room with palatial living room, dining room, sunroom and family room, twelve fireplaces, six full haths, two powder rooms, completely remodeled kitchen with every conceivable extra.

It's called ROSEDALE HOUSE, and sits back from the road on nearly four acres of wooded land. Call us for all the wonderful details. MAGNIFICENT is the only word! Price on request.

THE ADDRESS IS POOR FARM ROAD, IN ONE OF THE HOPEWELL VALLEY'S RICHEST AREAS! Rich...in woods, in hills, in peace, in natural surroundings! Built just a few years ago by a man who personally cut the site himself out of dense forest, so that now the landscaping is breath-taking, to say the least! Stone retaining walls, brook, trees, circular drive and much more surround this lovely home nestled on just over two acres. Every creature comfort available, with lots of living space for a growing famiy ... four bedrooms with room for more, two and a half baths, fully carpeted throughout! A gracious living room/fireplace, dining room with screen porch adjoining the deck, eat-in kitchen, family room with barn-siding semi-walls, brick colonial fireplace and oodles more! Absolutely perfect condition with lovely tones and colonial feeling. Central air conditioning, too!

DIVINE DESIGN AND DECOR... A fireplace with handcarved mantle highlights the ample living room with windows at front and back; adjacent to the inviting dining room a lovely panelled library has bookshelves, stereo wiring. A family kitchen of Quaker Maid design with functional shelves, lazy susans and all the other worksavers is off the porch, utility room and not too far from the two-car garage for grocery toting. There's a master suite with full bath; a second large bedroom has its own full bath, and then there are two other comfortable bedrooms and a full bath. The basement leatures a workshop, panelled playroom, wine cellar, storage closet AND SAUNA WITH SHOWER! COME SEE FOR YOURSELF!

NEAT, TIDY NEW ENGLAND STYLE LINES ON THIS WEST WINDSOR COLONIAL. Walk to the train, walk to shopping, minutes from schools and "in home" business possibilities. A very interesting choice. Offered at $66,500

AN EXTRAORDINARY SITUATION ON PROVINCE LINE ROAD, AND AREA OF EXQUISITE SCENERY AND QUIETLY ELEGANT ESTATES... built 20 years before its time ... exceptional construction, durable and divine wood beams and panelling throughout ... a free flow of rooms on both levels, two fantastic brick fireplaces, full windows and doors and a redwood deck off the upper entertainment area. Evergreens, dogwoods, and natural plantings are seen from every comfortable inside area. Resting on 8 secluded acres.

$175,000

ROLLING HILL ROAD at the BEDENS BROOK CLUB ... just a chip shot away from the 17th fairway ... a spectacular contemporary by William Thompsonn, AIA, recently featured in a national magazine, for its extraordinary use of beams, windows and space. Vaulted ceiling in the living room over the fireplace and full wall of windows to bring the outside in! Heavenly plan for a small family with master wing off by itself! Every imaginable modern convenience is just a short step from the foyer with balcony. Please call for an appointment to see this masterful design.

Just $149,500

IT'S FINALLY FINISHED AND GREAT...This is a house that has grown like Topsy! It started very small with two bedrooms. The addition of a super master suite with elaborate bath/dressing room area has made it something "special." Then the kitchen took in a couple of rooms and is really marvelous. This made it imperative to add a large living room with fireplace. So as not to be confusing, we end up with four bedrooms, and three baths. We do recommend your inspection of this delightful house on Cherry Hill Road. It has a charming flagstone terrace, too. The lot is surrounded by woods and is very private, and less than a mile from the Community Park courts!

Princetonian (a PDS Alumnus) Playing Opposite Katharine Hepburn in Hit Play Due in New York "Gee! I'm doing a scene with Hepburn!' I kept saying with Hepourn: I kept saying to myself, standing there like some wooden Indian!"

It's more than "a scene" with Hepburn. Christopher Reeve, 23, graduate of the old Nassau Street School and Princeton Day School, son of Mrs. Tristam B. Johnson of Mrs. Tristam B. The play, which opened October 27 in Philadelphia, has moved on to Washington for a one-month run. From there, it will travel to New Haven, Boston and Toronto, opening in New York at the Broadhurst on February 4.

Long and lithe - six feet, four -- Chris Reeve has been endowed by some uncanny genetic transfer with those famous Hepburn cheekbones and with the same quivering intensity of feeling that the actress herself projects.

"She is such a consummate actress - and so complex absolutely magical and 'just plain folks' at the same time, a total delight to work with, very accessible, but she hates when people behave stupidly....

He pauses for breath and grins at his headlong speech.

"I'm one of the luckiest young actors in New York this is an experience that just couldn't be bought."

On TV, Too. Chris is probably best known as Ben Harper on the daytime soap "Love of Life, although most of his work has been in the theatre. He made his debut on the Nassau Street School stage at the age of 6 playing the Prince in a first-grade production of "Cin-derella." At Princeton Country Day, before that school merged with Miss Fine's to become PDS, he played a Scottish housemaid in Agatha Christie's "Witness for the Prosecution." His Scottish accent is still the talk of the Highlands.

Herbert McAneny, who directed Chris in many PCD-PDS productions recalls that in seventh grade, the young actor "knew how to project, Chris became permanently afflicted with the stage bug at the age of 9 when he sang in a Gilbert and Sullivan chorus at McCarter. From then on, he hung around McCarter after school, pulling curtains, carrying props, even handling a spear and speaking a line or two in his last PDS years.

He spent six summer weeks in a theatre program at the Lawrenceville School and the next summer he was accepted into the apprentice program at Williamstown. The summer after that, he was hired to play Beliaev in "A Month in the Country" at the Loeb Drama Center at Harvard, and his career has been in the professional theatre ever since. "1776 IN 1976"

By P.J. & B. With fife, drum, and plain old theatrical pizzaz, the P.J. & B. players with open the Bicentennial year with - what else! - a production of the musical, Performance dates are Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 29, 30 and 31. The place, of course, is McCarter Theatre.

P.J. & B., for those who haven't been in town since the Battle of Princeton, stands for Princeton Junction and Back. It refers to the fact that many actors in these musicals are commuters on the Princeton Junction and Back ("dinky")

Milton Lyon will direct "1776." It will be his 17th P.J. & B. show. The musical, by Peter Stone and Sherman Edwards, is laid in Philadelphia during the days preceding the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Characters include Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Hancock and John Adams.

HERE'S "ALICE"

tn Disney Version. The 1951 Walt Disney animated version of "Alice in Wonderland" will have its first Princeton showing in more than 20 years when it is screened this Saturday at McCarter in the "Specially for Kids" series.

It will be shown twice on Saturday - at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. -- and twice next Tuesday - at 7 and 9 p.m. On Tuesday, it will be shown with "Milestones for Mickey," a retrospective look at M. Mouse, with excerpts from the first Mickey Mouse cartoon ("Steamboat Willie" in 1928) and the Apprentice'' "Fantasia." "Sorcerer's sequence from

'Alice in Wonderland" was not a success in its first release. In recent years, however, it has become a campus favorite, and it was re-released by the Disney Studios last year to much wider acceptance than it originally received.

PREMIERE AT McCARTER Of Cunningham Work, An untitled new work by Merce Cunningham will receive its world premiere at McCarter when Merce Cunningham and Dance Company come to Princeton January 13 and 15. Music for the new work is by Maryanne Amacher. Mark Lancaster has done the set.

In addition, the company will present the 1975 work, "Rebus" and "Sounddance" from 1974. This will be the first time these works have been given to east coast audiences. They received their first performances last year during the company's national tour musical scores are by David Behrman and David Tudor, and the sets are by Lancaster.

Other Cunningham choreography to be presented at McCarter will be "Signals" (1970), "Solo" (1973) and "TV Rerun" (1972).

A SHAKESPEARE FIRST? Well --- Atmost. Never before, according to researchers at Theatre Intime, has the Princeton area been privileged to see "All's Well That Ends Well." But all will be well, because Intime has decided to end this distressing state by mounting a production of Shakespeare's comedy for the weekends just before the Christmas holidays.

"All's Well" will open Thursday, December 4, and will play that weekend and the next at Murray Theatre on campus. Mary Ann Jensen is directing.

corresponding secretary. The first vice-president of the Society is L. Wendell Estey and the treasurer is

New trustees are Margaret Burt, Catherine Makowicz and Ralph Schoenstein. The following trustees were re-elected for two-year terms: Mr. Estey, George Ford, Elinor C. Lamont, Nicholas S. Lamont, Jean B. Pariso, Mr. Lucas, Mr. Ward and Mrs. Newman. Others serving on the board are Carl B. Good, Ray J. Howe, Ruth A. Pettit, Lavinia Rosenthal, Gloria N. Woodside, Mrs. Kane and

Mrs. Keats. Mr. Lucas has appointed Mr. Ward as chairman of the finance committee, Mr. Howe as chairman of the grants committee, Mrs. Keats as head of the committee on education and scholarship and Mrs. Newman as chairman of fund-raising.

At the meeting, Mr. Lucas reported that the 1974-75 fund raising appeal netted almost $10,000 toward reduction of last year's deficit. The Society, a non-profit organization, is facing a projected budget deficit for the second year in a row. Officers attribute the deficit largely to scholarship aid for qualified students, and to the increasing cost of maintaining The Princeton Ballet Company (formerly the Princeton Regional Ballet Company).

The Society has received two grants: an award of $2,340 from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts, and a grant of $1,000 from the Mobil Foundation.

Nashville. Music City, USA. becomes a richly textured metaphor for America in the 1970s in Robert Altman's masterly and massive canvas of five days in the lives of 24 characters in Nashville, Tenn. Excellent characterizations and a highly-charged surface humor are interwoven with the almost continuous music. Altogether, a riveting look at the darker side of the American Dream.

With the Nashville music scene as their prime rallying point, the two dozen characters come to represent a cross section of America, ranging from performers and the casual hangers-on to suave politicians marketring a populist presidential can-

Among them are: Ronee Blakley (making (making an debut) as a auspicious Country & Western queen; Karen Black, waiting confidently on the sideline, ready to snatch up Blakley's crown when her audience turns against her; Henry Gibson, a top country singer--and a legion of fringe characters. Among the latter are Barbara Harris, a renegade housewife who will do virtually anything for a chance to sing; Gwen Welles, a pathetically un-talented waitress, goaded into stripping after being laughed off the stage for her voice; and Shelley Duvall, a spaced-out groupie who likes to go to bed with stars

Lilly Tomlin is superb as a stifled wife of a back lawyer who channels her selfexpression into singing with a Black gospel group. Geraldine Chaplin is an obnoxious British reporter who finds angry social poetry in everything from scrap heaps to school buses.

Most people can recognize color. There are many who are color-weak, and a few that are totally color-blind -- that is, they see black and white only. The most common color blindness is red-green blindness. To these people the entire color spectrum is seen in yellow and blue tones. This condition is inheritable, and is more common in men than in women, affecting between five to eight per cent of the male population. Color blindness is a factor to consider when choosing an occupation.

SCHUSTER'S CHANGES

Now An Auction House. Going once! Going twice! Going three times! Sold! That was the sound last Friday evening at Schuster's premier catalog sale— a pre-Christmas offering of jewelry priced from $50 to $18,000 for a pear-shaped diamond solitaire weighing 8% carats.

Longtime Princeton fine arts antique dealers and appraisers, Harold and Constance Schuster have opened an auction house specializing in catalog sales. Although this type of auction selling is not a new concept, it

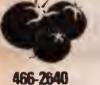

Mrs. Schuster told us that these sales provide as "controlled a situation as you can get." The consignor is protected because each item is listed with a reserve price that prevents it from being sold below a competitive

Mr. and Mrs. Schuster plan to hold sales approximately monthly with a two-day exhibit before each one. Whether you consign one piece or several, the cost is 25 percent of the first $1,000; 20 percent of the next $4,000 of sale price; 15 percent of the next $1,000, and 12½ percent of the portion of the sale over

The main advantage the Schusters can offer over a New York auction house is the promise of including your piece in a catalog sale within 90 days. There is also easy parking, excellent security (to your car if necessary), and a personal service.

Located at 20 Nassau Street, Schuster's is open from 10 to 4 Monday through Friday and by appointments.

of antiques. For instance in just one area we saw a Staf-fordshire plate (1842-67); $18.50; several pieces of Celadon china—a translucent green with handsome partots and flowers, $55 to $85; and a three-dimensional primitive painting of a schooner by James Keating, a self-taught Maine artist of the early 20th

There is also a magnificent Russian samovar just like the ones found in tea rooms. It is highly polished brass and features the Czars' insignias.

Dolls are synonymous with High Button Shoe Antiques, including some lovely bisqueheaded ones that are all dressed and carefully documented as to marks, repairs and breaks

Mrs. Kennedy specializes in little ones (just the right size for doll houses) and she has boxes of them. We saw an Hungarian wedding couple, a bisque bonnet-headed doll, a father and a small black doll. Many of these come from the Tudor Doil House. There are doll houses too, ranging from a huge 100-year old house whose front opens to reveal four large rooms and two halls to a cardboard tudor one from the 1920's, $550 and $40 respectively. According to Mrs. Kennedy, few of the cardboard houses remain, but hers has been reinforced and even comes with the original three-dimensional window boxes and shrubs.

And, of course there are miniatures- just the kind the doll house world loves. There is a pewter World War I airplane, tiny cross-stitch pillows and our favorite— binoculars with a tiny scene in them.

With antique hunting, other part-time jobs, and families, the person in charge varies. However, in addition to Mrs.

ART In Princeton

HUMOR IN ART FORM At Gallery of Fine Art. If one accepts the concept that art is the graphic expression of an idea and that its merit is dependent upon the skill and taste employed in the execution of that idea, the visual implementation of a pun must be included if it meets the other criteria. Since humor is involved in pun-manship, the part of the standard which the work must meet would be dependent upon its ability to entertain.

A great deal of fun is to be had this month at the Princeton Gallery of Fine Art, where Sculptured Books by Barton Lidice Benes are on display. The books in question started out in life in a convential form, but have been space are exceptionally well reshaped, embellished with appropriate trimmings and then painted or coated so that the title is expressed by the elements displayed. This reviewer will not spoil the fun by telling much more except to say that it's better if you try to guess the name before you.

At the University Museum. Harmony between nature and man's soul has been a subject of serious study throughout Rosicrucian history and, as such, has traditionally given rise to important studies in art, music and philosophy. Pamel Colman Smith, an artly 20th century artist early 20th century artist life to produce an extensive whose work is now displayed collection of representation at the Art Museum, was in-volved with Rosicrucianism and other mystical forms and expressed ideas of the occult through her art.

Her contemporaries and friends, including William Butler Yeats and Alfred Steiglitz, as well as major theatrical personalities, were among the major turn-of-thecentury forces seeking new forms and new means of expression. Although she was one of the first artists to ex-press visually the mysticism of music and synthesize sound through color and imagery, she is most widely known for designing a new tarot foretune-telling card deck in

The tarot deck is featured in the current collection. The mystical and emotional qualities of the pictorial cards are equal to that which is in the musical interpretations. Mood and mystery are ex-pressed through humanistic landscape constructions and emotionally-conceived figures. It is not unusual in this part of the collection for a figure to loom out of a mountain or a tree from a figurative subject.

Hand-colored prints of Ellen Terry, Henry Irving and Sarah Bernhardt are included, as are privately-printed books and magazine illustrations. The work is quite typical of its era and carries a sense of nostalgia along with its more complex intellectual values.

> At the Drawing Room. Oil and pastel landscapes by Howard Russell Butler are featured at the Drawing Room. Butler pursued many careers including that of businessman and patent at-torney but found time in his landscapes that are typically American in style.

After studying with Frederick E. Church, he made an extensive record of Maine coastal scenes, the Western landscape and Long Island, as well as scattered views of many distant spots. His art contains many of the luminous tonal qualities of his teacher and is typical of late 19th century American landscape Here's one of the most unusual football records ever set ever set ... When Cumberland College lost to Georgia Tech 222-0 in 1916, the longest gain Cumberland made during that football game was a 4-yard loss!

... Every time they had the ball during that game, they either lost possession or lost vardage!

Did you know that amazing high school football records were set by two of 1975's best pitchers in major league baseball, Vida Blue of the A's and Don Gullett of the Reds? ... Blue, in his senior year in high school in Louisiana, threw 35 touchdown passes; and Gullett in high school football in Kentucky, once scored 72 points himself in a single game.

Here's an example of how much bigger the average football player is today than they used to be ... The average weight of the All-American team last season was 224 pounds per man ... The average weight of the All-Americans 50 years ago was 183 pounds ... Thus, on the average, today's players are some 40 pounds heavier!

l bet you didn't know .. that you might save money on homeowner's and-or car insurance if you had a higher deductible than you now have.

When the choice was made, it was, astonishingly, the same spot pass to Neil Chamberlin in the right flat that had failed twice that afternoon to gain a foot. The Tigers' wide receiver, amply covered, was easily nailed a yard behind the line of scrimmage and the whole concept of winning football at Princeton suffered as a result.

Taking the ensuing kickoff, Yale gambled on possesion twice. The first time, the Elis made the necessary yardage on fourth down with a yard to spare; the second time they situation and won the ball consecutive seasons for the game. Halfback John Pagliaro, the heir apparent to senior Don Gesicki, took a pitchout around his right end, turned the flank behind fine blocking and covered the 25 yards to the goal line as unhindered as a batter running out an inside-the-park home run.

The Tigers got all the way to the Yale five before Beible threw a fourth-down interception that ended their hopes of making it closer and then trying a dribble kickoff to retain possesion for one last shot. On the march that aborted just short of the goal line, Beible must have set a record for a frustrated running game by throwing 13 consecutive passes. As it had against Brown, the Princeton ground attack managed exactly eight yards.

Beible completed half his 34 passes for 110 yards. Five went to Chamberlin, giving him a Princeton career record total of 76. Bill Skinner '74, whose senior year came when Beible began all his aerial activities as a sophomore, held the old mark of 75. Fencik's 97-yard touchdown reception is a Yale record, and while the book doesn't list that category on defense, it is also undoubtedly the longest scoring pass Princeton has ever allowed. The details are the saw that saw the saw Nowhere in the Ivy League is winning football more important than it is at Dartmouth, largely because Bob Blackman gave the Green such a winning tradition that it has had greater success than any of its lvy rivals. In the quiet hills of New Hampshire, where there are few other diversions, victory is vital to a happy way of life.

Because the pendulum almost invariably swings away from unusual success, Dartmouth football has come—at least relatively—on hard times. The Green lost its first three a year ago, in-cluding a 14-7 decision on its own field to rebuilding Princeton, finished 3-6 overall and fell out of first division in the lvy League for the first time since 1968. Tops Princeton in Hockey. After trailing by no more than 2-1 in its first period of hockey this season against the U.S. Olympic team, which had played nearly 30 games since its formation earlier this year, Princeton fell victim to the national sextet's superior ability in the second round. Outscored, 3-0, in that session, the Tigers lost, 6 to 2.

A near-capacity crowd in Baker Rink Saturday watched the contest, one of the earliest the sport has known here. Kris Kollevoll, a junior forward, scored for the Orange and Black in the opening period, and sophomore John Van Siclen added the other Princeton goal just before the game ended. The Tigers had a man advantage at the time, a plus factor they had enjoyed on frequent occasions during the evening, but without ability to convert their power plays previously.

Mike O'Leary was the Princeton goalie, blocking 32 of the 38 shots taken at him. The losers had 31 shots -- 14 in the last period -- on Olympic goalie Jim Warden.

Coach Jack Semler's team will play a second exhibition game Sunday at 5:30 in Baker Rink against the St. Nicks. Among the former Princeton players on the club team are John and Steve Cook, graduates here in 1963 and 66. The varsity's season will open officially Saturday night, November 29, with Dartmouth here for an Ivy League game.

The game will be played in Trenton, starting at 1:30.

Shut out 10-0 last week by Ewing, Trenton has failed to live up to its pre-season promise. It will enter the Princeton contest with a 2-5-1 mark. Trenton coach Mark Bailey acknowledged that his team is down and described the Ewing shoutout as "our worst game

His counterpart, PHS coach Jim Beachell isn't buying. He predicted the game would be "even-steven, a tough defensive battle."

"The team that makes the fewest mistakes will win it,' he said. "Trenton will be up for it; we took it to 'em last year and they will want to get even." PHS stopped the Tornadoes, 26-0, last fall in one of its best games of the season.

And the non-existent Notre Dame offense, which has scored only six points this season while the defense was yielding 201, was just as im-potent against the Little Tigers, recording only four first downs during the game.

It was only the second game at quarterback for Schulman since taking over for the suspended Tommy Thomas. Schulman will also direct the Little Tigers against Trenton. "He's coming around," said Beachell.

Beachell also cited the "good running game" of Ziolkowski, who rushed for 74 yards on nine carries, and the defensive play of Anthony Cirullo and McPherson. He also commended the fine job guard John Hoover did in filling in at center the entire game for the injured Nate Harris.

HUN EXITS WITH WIN Wins League Title. Scoring twice early in the game, the Hun School football team went on to defeat Admiral Farragut Saturday, 23-12. The game was the final one of the season for the Red and Black which finished with a fine 6-2 record. The win— Hun's fifth in a row— also gained it the championship of the New Jersey Independent Group A Conference. Blair Academy, its only league loss to Hun, finished second.

It was a good season for Hun on the gridiron- better, said Hun coach Dave Leete, than he had anticipated at the start. Hun began with a good backfield but the line, particulary from tackle to tackle, was a question mark. "A lot of players we had to count on came around," said Leete.

Through graduation Leete loses both ends, Tom Sumners and Larry Gebert and the entire backfield of Terry McEwen, Greg Pabers, fullback Ernie Barbiero and quarterback Nick Brady. Also departing will be Sean Cleary and Bob Mendelson. The latter was a special squad player who snapped the ball on all Hun punts.

'He did a great job. He didn't have one bad snap all season," said Leete.

Victory over the cadets, coupled with an earlier defeat of Navy, made this the first Princeton team ever to defeat both service academies in one season. The Orange and Black had not finished on top of the standings since 1954.

Scoring on a long march after taking the opening kickoff, the victors never trailed. Army tied the contest at 7-all, but a pass interception set up Princeton's second TD, and after Army had drawn to within 14-13, a blocked kick converted into a touchdown provided insurance points.
